

All One Ocean
Ocean Warriors Program Manager

Hours per week: 2-4 hours per week, possibly more

Ocean Warriors summary: Ocean Warriors - an Environmental Leadership Program - was developed by elementary school teachers and All One Ocean, a locally based non-profit, to give elementary school students a deeper understanding of how they as individuals impact the environment around them. Using Project Based learning we educate elementary school students to become the next generation of Environmental Leaders. From October – April of each school year, we give students a project with an issue to be solved. Ocean Warriors teaches students self-responsibility their environment around them -in their classroom, campus, and communities and ultimately as well as how it affects our waterways and eventually the Ocean and its inhabitants. Students learn, for example, how to understand and question the issue to be solved, develop a plan of action and find solutions to the issue. In this way, they gain invaluable research and presentation skills; learn how to get involved with their local communities and how to be leaders in caring for our environment. This is a yearlong program and each project has been designed to fit in with grade-level curriculum and current world conservation activities, covering history and social science, reading comprehension, literacy and mathematics.

Summary: We are seeking a self-motivated, outgoing and organized person who can excel at working with elementary school students and is passionate about making a difference. This is an ideal job of a stay-a-home parent or someone who is looking for an extra income. The ideal candidate is fun, knows how to talk to and interact with elementary school students and cares about teaching our youth. This person will not need a teacher credential however one would be ideal. They will need to be fingerprinted and pass a TB test prior to working.

Ocean Warriors runs each October-April at different schools around Marin County. During this time, our Ocean Warriors Program Manager will work with selected local elementary schools students to coordinate and facilitate the Ocean Warriors program each week along side of our Ocean Warriors Intern. They are expected to prepare each week for the class curriculum and build and adapt new curriculum. They will go to the school site and work with the elementary school students during the student's lunchtime recess, field trips and excursions. They will be instrumental in helping students determine their goals for each project, structure their groups so that students are assigned tasked which best suit their skillsets, help them determine where they need help from outside resources or how to communicate with their community, and guide them to complete their project within the allotted timeframe. This candidate will need to provide their own transportation to schools, field trips et al.

This position offers a unique a flexible working environment with big career growth and opportunities. We offer flexible work schedules and work from home options. We are a small organization who can make big change on a dime. Our employees are encouraged to think outside the box and bring big ideas to the table. We value team collaboration and believe in listening to everyone's voice.

Description of All One Ocean:

We are a women-run, multi-generational, small grassroots organization with great impact. We keep our organization small so that funds are directed to implementing programs instead of lofty overhead. With essential support from Earth Island Institute, our experienced Advisory Team, and a very dedicated group of volunteers, we are mighty in the work we accomplish. To learn more about us visit: alloneocean.org

Compensation: Paid DOE

Contact: info@alloneocean.org

Nicole Cibellis, Director
PO Box 1164
Mill Valley, CA 94942
www.AllOneOcean.org
510 859 9198