

All One Ocean Programs Internship
2023 Job Description

Reports to: Program Manager

Hours per week: 3-5 hours per week

Location: mostly work from home with mandatory in-person opportunities for events, beach cleanups, etc. (must be based in San Francisco Bay Area)

Description of the organization:

All One Ocean's mission is to educate our communities about litter entering our waterways and how it affects our health and our environment. We believe the solution to the degradation of our waterways starts with education, and we provide crucial education through our two primary programs: Ocean Warriors (OW), our elementary school environmental leadership program, and our Beach Cleanup program. Bay Area based All One Ocean, a Project of Earth Island Institute, was founded by Hallie Iglehart in 2010 with Beach Cleanup Stations which have been used to remove over 1.1 million pieces of trash since their inception. Since 2011, All One Ocean has installed over 54 Beach Cleanup Stations in California, Baja, across the USA, Mexico, and beyond. Complementing this work we focus our education primarily around Ocean Warriors, our youth-based environmental leadership program.

Ocean Warriors is our environmental leadership program for K-8 facilitated by All One Ocean in partnership with public schools. Our OW program offers an immersive schoolwide assembly presented by our high school interns and Program Manager. This program incorporates Project-Based Learning, hands-on experience, and outdoor experiential learning. Ocean Warriors is a sustainable approach to changing behaviors at the source and creating a new generation of environmental leaders, making beneficial daily choices for our environment. Additionally, tying in our Ocean Warriors and Beach Cleanup Station programs, we organize education-based beach cleanups for entire communities focused on community building, teamwork, and gaining a deeper understanding of how pollution affects our global ecosystems.

Summary:

The position for an All One Ocean Programs Intern will go from September 2023 - June 2024 with the potential to be renewed based on performance. This position will assist the Program Manager in person by leading events such as Ocean Warriors (OW) assemblies and beach clean-ups as well as executing minor repairs to existing beach cleanup stations (BCUS). Beyond these three main tasks, the All One Ocean Programs intern will be expected to assist the Program Manager with as-needed tasks such as outreach campaigns, research, grant writing, etc. Duties will include leading Ocean Warrior assemblies hours, leading/assisting with beach clean-up events, minor BCUS repairs, outreach, minor curriculum research, and development of program components.

This position requires a self-motivated, outgoing, and organized candidate who can excel at taking on new projects, think outside of the box, and be an advocate for Environmental Leadership. This candidate will also need to have his or her own computer, Internet availability, phone, transportation and must live in the San Francisco Bay Area to perform this job.

Preferred Qualifications:

- College student - seeking an environmental degree is a plus but not necessary
- Positive and outgoing demeanor
- Self-motivated and excels at taking on new tasks, able to work independently
- Accepts direction easily
- Excellent communication skills both written and verbal
- Loves working with children and knows how to communicate with them
- Passionate about the Ocean and how to eliminate Ocean debris

Compensation: unpaid
